Draftees To Register In Monrovia

Plan To Enroll Men Under Second Call In Hometown Is Recalled

On advice of State draft headquarters, presented at a district meeting of the local draft board in Monrovia this week, a decision was reached to abandon the plan to take the second draft registration July 1 in home communities of registrants.

This action was taken when state headquarters deemed it inadvisable to establish inter-district registration centers unless the distance to district headquarters exceeds 50 miles. Sierra Madreans who have become eligible for the draft since the first registration will, therefore, register July 1 at Monrovia headquarters between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m.

Harold (Tex) Strange, member of the U.S. Forest Service who was scheduled to leave June 17 on the 10th and 11th combined call, has been given a 2A deferment rating and will remain at his station in the Santa Anita Canyon.

Announcement from the local draft board yesterday revealed that nine men from this district will be inducted under the 13th call, leaving Monrovia at 9 a.m. Wednesday, July 9. Names of the selectees for this call will not be available until next week.

Bob Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Murphy who recently volunteered for army service, left Tuesday for the induction station. Murphy, who has had considerable success with carrier pigeons, hopes eventually to be placed in the army communication service.

Draws Term In Jail For Drunk Driving

Driving in Sierra Madre while drunk brought a 50-day county jail sentence to O. L. Cuddy of 658 Orange Grove avenue when he appeared before Judge Tom Neale in city court Wednesday morning. Cuddy was apprehended in the downtown section Tuesday and given the sobriety test at the police station. Appearing before Judge Neale he was given choice of a $100 fine or the jail sentence. Unable to meet the fine he began serving sentence immediately.

Perfect Weather In Sierra Madre Now

With the mercury standing well above 75 degrees during most of the week, Sierra Madreans have been enjoying almost perfect weather, with only slight fogs cooling the mornings. Everywhere gardens are bursting into early summer blossoms, and garden parties are taking precedence after the regular cool weather activities. Temperatures for the week were:

	Max.	Min.
June 12	88	56
June 13	88	58
June 14	81	50
June 15	75	60
June 16	79	54
June 17	85	52
June 18	83	53

HOME OF CITY'S FOUNDER IS BEING RAZED; MODERN ONE PLANNED BY NEW OWNER

Carter Residence Was One Of The First Built In The Young City

With preliminary work for the razing of the N. C. Carter home progressing steadily, one of Sierra Madre's most prominent landmarks will soon become only a memory, as a new modern home for Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Willis will rise on the old homestead.

An article prepared recently for the NEWS by Arthur N. Carter, son of the city's founder, gives the following information about the Carter home and a few of the highlights in the development of early Sierra Madre:

"The location at the head of Baldwin avenue was selected by N. C. Carter for its wonderful outlook over the valley and also for its abundant private water supply.

"After the spur of the mountain was graded off the lumber was hauled by six horse team from Los Angeles. The house was one of the first built in Sierra Madre to have sanitary appliances. Since tile and lighting fixtures were not obtainable in Los Angeles, my father made a trip to San Francisco to purchase them.

"Instead of the kerosene lamp customary in those days a gas manufacturing plant was installed

Firemen Will Hold Their Summer Dance Saturday Evening

Sierra Madre's Volunteer Firemen have arranged a spring dance which according to their estimates will be "as hot as fire" with Del's Californians swinging the latest dance favorites at the Woman's clubhouse Saturday evening.

This annual highlight of the early summer season will begin at 8:30 and firemen will be on hand to arrange card games and other activities for those who do not dance. Informality will be the order of the evening, and in addition to the swift moving entertainment there will be the usual delicious punch.

Entire proceeds from the dance will go into a fund to repair or clean clothing which is damaged or soiled during fires.

School Cost Lower Than Last Year

Temporary budget for the Sierra Madre Grammar School for the fiscal year 1941-42 ready for submission to the county superintendent of schools, July 1, places requirements for the coming year at $57,403, as against the previous budget of $57,915, showing a reduction of $512.

Decrease in the average daily attendance by 26 units will cause a reduction in the state contribution which will have to be made up through district taxation. However no increase in the tax rate is anticipated due to the higher assessed valuation in the district.

Teachers slated for the automatic $50 yearly increase in salary include Miss Dorothy Moots, Miss Betty Newton, Miss Almeda Stryker, Samuel McElfresh, David Larsen and Hobart McLaughlin. Harry Caskey, custodian, will also receive a salary increase which will raise his yearly income to $1500.

Public hearing on the temporary budget will be held at the grammar school August 1.

Better Upkeep Of Cemetery Planned

Possible improvements which may be made in the administrative program of the Sierra Madre cemetery will be discussed at the annual stockholders meeting of the Sierra Madre cemetery association which has been called by Harry Lange, secretary-treasurer, for Friday, June 20, at 1 o'clock, at 201 West Sierra Madre Blvd. It is hoped that action taken at the meeting will lead to better upkeep of the cemetery and all members of the association are urged by Lange to attend.

Sister Of Author Is Killed In Crash

Word was received here late yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Alfred R. Page of the death of her sister, Mrs. Walter Roe, who was killed in an automobile accident in New Mexico earlier in the day. Miss Elizabeth Page, Sierra Madre author and niece of Mrs. Roe, left immediately for New Mexico by plane.

Over 100 Enrolled For Summer Bible School At Bethany

Summer Bible School, which has been held annually at Bethany Church since 1925, will open this year on June 30 and continue through July 25. Miss Ruth Needham will again act as general superintendent, and announces approximately 100 children have already enrolled. Last year's daily attendance averaged 199. The school will be in session each day between 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. for all children of the community.

Water Of Colorado River In Pasadena

Pasadena today had the distinction of being the first city on the Coastal Plain of Southern California to receive water from the Colorado River. The water flowed into Sunset Reservoir, which serves as a storage basin for the Pasadena Municipal water system, early Tuesday afternoon through a connection with the distribution system of the Colorado River Aqueduct. The water was delivered into the reservoir in the course of a preliminary test being made by engineers of the Metropolitan Water District.

"All the older trees including those on Baldwin avenue as far south as Grand View, were planted in the fall and winter of 1883. These avenue trees were watered from a large tank drawn by horses until they had become deeply rooted.

"The first telephone line coming to Sierra Madre was at the old home being built jointly by E. J. Baldwin and my father to the Santa Anita Rancho from San Gabriel and from the Santa Anita Rancho my father built the line at his own expense.

Baseball To Start Here On Friday

Boys And Girls Teams Being Organized And Practice Games Start

Swinging into line with the baseball season, Kiwanians interested in boys and girls activities have set tentative dates for Kiwanis Recreation Center night ball games, pending the approval of the local school board.

Both boys and girls are organizing teams which will practice on the grammar school diamond, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, beginning June 23, with local Kiwanians on hand to assist in training some first class players and picking evenly balanced teams.

Girls will be organized into an all-star team playing under the management of Robert LaLone with home games scheduled for each Friday evening. The boys all-star team will also play at home each Friday evening. A manager and captain of this group will be elected by team members. Plans are also underway for a boys' Junior league for boys under 14, and for a boys senior league.

On Friday, June 20 the Recreation All Stars will play the Pines Coffee Shop team of Arcadia at the grammar school grounds, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Beginning Monday, June 23 the Kiwanis Recreation Center will be open each day from 12 noon until 9 p.m., with the following exceptions: July 3, 12 noon until 9 p.m.; July 4, closed all day; Saturdays 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Building Of New Homes Goes Ahead

Building continued active in Sierra Madre during the first two weeks of June with permits for four new homes and extensive alterations and repairs issued by William Lees, building inspector.

Preliminary work for the razing of the old N. C. Carter home is well under way, and remodeling of the huge barn into a rumour house has already begun. New owners of the estate, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Willis of Pasadena, have let the contract for a swimming pool costing $2500 to the Paddock Engineering Co. A $7000 residence is being built for the R. B. Crawfords of 120 North Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, at 674 West Montecito avenue, by H. A. Armstrong.

Angelenos planning to take up residence here are J. Shilling, now building a $4000 home at 622 West Alegria avenue and W. Vehrenkamp for whom W. B. Durham is constructing a home at 126 Esperanza avenue. The R. H. Nunnallys of Arcadia will become Sierra Madreans when their $4,000 home is completed at 619 West Alegria avenue. A. W. Sexton of 661 Canyon Crest is building a three room guest house. The C. T. Coits, who recently bought the home at 519 Elm street, are making improvements, and a new garage is now under construction for Basset & Washburn.

Local Guard Officers Get Titles

Foothill Area Regiment Makes First Appearance At Race Track Sunday

Commission of second lieutenant, in the first platoon Company H, Third regiment composite, of the California State Guard was received this week by Arthur H. Embree, from the office of Governor Culbert L. Olson in Sacramento. This places Embree in charge of the Sierra Madre platoon, assisted by Tom Schwartz, Paul Logic and Edward A. Davey, who have received warrants of sergeants. Waverly Pratt received his corporal's warrant as company clerk.

Walter D. Thurber of Manzanita avenue, has been commissioned as a first lieutenant of the regiment. Embree, who served 15 months as a non-commissioned officer with the Rainbow division in France during the World War, has been drilling the men in the local unit since they were mustered in about a month ago. This unit will be among those giving an all day demonstration of guard activities at Santa Anita race track Sunday, when more than 1000 members of the Guard will participate.

Taking an important part in the day's maneuvers will be a squad of 12 men from the First Platoon Company H, Sierra Madre, who will demonstrate the extended order drill.

The day's events will begin at 9 a.m. and will conclude with a regimental review at 4 p.m. before a group of military, city and state officials and members of the state legislature.

It will be Southern California's first glimpse of its home defense troops in action. The regimental review will be at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Everyone interested is invited to be present. All of the drills and ceremonies will take place in the parking space just outside the race track. Troops from three Southern California counties will be present.

Chess Fans To Flock Here On Saturday

Activity will center around bishops, kings, rooks and pawns at the City Park Saturday when chess experts from all parts of the Southland will gather to celebrate the 103 birthday anniversary of Paul Morphy, at Sierra Madre's 11th annual chess carnival, only affair of its kind in the United States.

Youthful players, already proficient wizards of the game, as Morphy was at the age of 10, will challenge more experienced fans, and there will be many special events for both men and women.

Playing will begin at 10 a.m. and the tentative schedule includes a ladies team tournament, problem contest, ladies rapid transit elimination tournament, mens casual games, opportune team matches, a 30-board special simultaneous, No. 1; team matches between Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena; a 4-board blindfold exhibition; ladies simultaneous exhibition, and a rapid transit tournament.

Introductions and addresses and the closing 50-board simultaneous by G. S. G. apterson, will end the day. Among prominent experts to be present are Douglas Houghton, chess editor of the Pasadena Star News and Mrs. Houghton.

The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce will award a silver cup as the amateur rapid transit first prize, while bronze medals will be given by M. A. Woodward and Mr. Dunn of Arcadia to the afternoon and evening simultaneous player making the first point over the anniversary.

Morphy, whose birth anniversary is commemorated with the carnival, was born June 22, 1837, of Spanish, Irish and French stock in New Orleans. At the age of 10 he has mastered the game and continued to play for amusement throughout his life. Family disapproval prevented him from becoming a professional player.

All players attending the carnival are asked by M. A. Woodward, chairman, to bring their own boards.

Pasadenan Buys A Sunnyside Ave Home

Miss Margaret Syme of Pasadena has purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bub at 261 North Sunnyside avenue.

Sierra Madre Gifts Will Make Alaska Children Happy

Because of the friendly enthusiasm shown by local school children in promoting a worthwhile Junior Red Cross project during the semester, youngsters at Wainwright, Alaska, will enjoy a happier Christmas this year.

Junior Red Cross members representing 15 classes at the grammar school, and working under the chairmanship of Miss Dorothy Moote, have prepared 100 gift packages wrapped in the national colors for distribution in Wainwright during the Christmas season.

Packages contain all manner of gifts, including dresses, nightgowns and booties made by the girls in Mrs. Zayda Leonard's sewing class.

The shipment has already started north.

Lack Of SRA Funds Hits Local Clients

That failure of the legislature to provide funds with which to finance the state relief association will materially effect local crossing guards as well as several other local SRA workers was indicated yesterday when announcement was made by the SRA office in Los Angeles that funds to continue the relief administration within the county will be exhausted June 30.

County Manager Wayne Allen, following a conference with the board of supervisors, stated that a possible increase in county tax bills is faced by taxpayers in order to raise a fund in excess of $7,000,000 which will be required to carry the load of 12,512 SRA cases within the county.

Two methods of raising this sum are being considered by the supervisors. One would increase the tax rate from $1.47 to $1.82. The alternate plan would be to adopt the regular budget, shifting money for relief from other items into the charity fund.

Roger Jessup, chairman of the board has stated that an appeal may be made to Governor Culbert L. Olson to call a special session of the legislature for further consideration of the relief situation.

Sierra Madre's SRA clients number four women and eight men. Women are included in the classifications of houseworker, seamstress, hemstitcher and teacher, while the masculine classification is also diversified, falling into clerical, unemployable, labor, tractor operator and crossing guards.

Contracts Let For New $8,500,000 San Gabriel Valley Dam

Contract for the Santa Fe dam which will be another important link in achieving ultimate control of flood waters in the San Gabriel valley, has been let to four engineering firms submitting a combined low bid of $8,837,199.50. The dam will be built just north of the Arrow Highway in a section bounded by the Azusa city limits on one side and the Duarte unincorporated area on the other.

It will differ from the recently constructed Hansen and Sepulveda dams in that the spillway will be entirely separate from the outlet. The spillway will be the west wing of the main embankment and will discharge into the Rio Hondo. Sixteen graded outlet openings will be in the middle of the main embankment and will comprise a single bank with an access gallery over them extending through the dam parallel to the outlet conduits.

Flag's Significance Is Emphasized At Grammar School

Significance of the American Flag in the light of social, political and economic achievements which have occurred since it was first raised over the nation, formed an impressive background for the Flag Day celebration held Friday at the grammar school. Particularly outstanding was the Betay Ross tableau created by children, with a chorus presenting the musical setting.

The customary entrance of the colors, flag drill and pledge of allegiance all gave patriotic color to the program, which was complete with school band, orchestra and chorus numbers and a recitation, "We are the Garrison Guarding the Homeland," by Jerry Brown.

DON'T BE AFRAID OF MILKY LOOKING WATER IN HOT WEATHER --- IT'S AIR BUBBLES

Air and water may be considered among the inalienable rights of man when consumed separately, but in combination they may look unpalatable, and cause an annual prolonged headache for water superintendents, according to Bill Schwartz, head of the local water department.

Schwartz says the season is approaching when water consumers will find glasses filled with a milky looking water flowing from taps supposedly reserved for Sierra Madre's clear mountain water, and will often become suspicious to the point of buying bottled water for drinking. However, he gives assurance that the water is not fouled but simply filled with minute air bubbles which cause the cloudy appearance, but have no effect upon the water.

This condition generally occurs because "when water from the reservoir with its air content, enters the mains of the water distribution system, it is then confined and pressure is created

City Awakens To Call For USO Funds

Contributions Begin To Pour In For Army Recreation Purposes

Recognizing the responsibility which rest with every citizen of the nation in contributing to the success of the current United Service Organization's drive, Sierra Madreans during the last six days subscribed $100 of the $600 quota set last week by the Sierra Madre Post of the VFW, which is furthering the USO cause locally.

This quota is well under that set by the national campaign committee which has asked for a general subscription of 20 cents per capita, which would place Sierra Madre's quota at approximately $1000.

Speaking recently to more than 1000 community leaders from all parts of the nation who met in Washington to discuss the USO program which will provide necessary recreation for men in army camps, President Roosevelt commented that "the multitudinous things this teamwork must and will accomplish are all important—from the major task of operating community centers in some 360 areas of defense concentration to the apparently minor task of providing a cup of coffee and a comfortable chair" and stated that "every citizen has an obligation to scrutinize his contribution to the common life he shares with his neighbors."

Local residents and business firms contributing the first $100 were Byron Hopper, Tom Neale, Harriet Buckingham, Arthur Bridgland, P. R. Baril, Wm. Kennedy, Miss D. Hawks, Mrs. L. H. Stevenson, Mrs. H. R. Wood, Nora M. Mesecar, Mrs. R. A. Pratt, Sierra Madre Savings Bank, R. C. Lewis, Preston Schwartz, Miss Hazel Woodward, Miss Jean Woodward, Dr. E. A. Gordenau, David Roess, Mrs. Mary Dickinson, Mrs. I. M. Jameson, Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard, Miss Martha Pritchard, Frank Spencer, Mrs. O. A. Bergien, Mary E. Feeney, Mrs. M. L. Tibbals and Brock's Market.

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

There are flowers shows, dog shows and horse shows. There are baby shows and millions of contests. So why not parent shows, with prizes for the best parents, healthiest, etc., with the children sitting on the sidelines swelling with pride and shaking with nervousness.

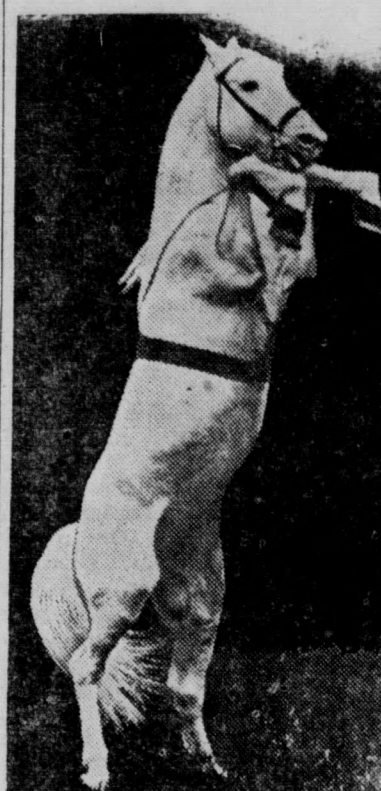

And while we're on the subject of promoting... it would also be a good idea if somewhere in the laws of Sierra Madre there was one stating that once a month at least, all able bodied men, women and children, should promenade for two hours in the moonlight. It's not only beautiful but good for one's soul as well. So many people will make a supreme effort to enjoy the nights on their vacation trips to other places, but will miss the loveliness of those in their own town of Sierra Madre. Maybe we're all too close to the forest to see the trees.

Now let's promote still another thing... a school to teach men the modern way of folding diapers. Harry Lange and Tom Schwartz both use the old fashioned method as evidenced by the demonstration they were giving in the newsstand recently. Maybe Emile Smith will volunteer for the position of instructor in newest methods.

I have learned many interesting and valuable things this week... that Mabel Stanton's cat, Tony, ate too many lizards and is undergoing treatment in a local cat hospital... that there is a story somewhere about a robot going on a bender because it oiled itself from the wrong can... that sitting on the beach, exposed to the sunlight and salt air may feel good but is apt to cause one a good deal of discomfort for several days, and that a preponderance of Americans don't like Hitler.

There is a book, perhaps, in our own public library, entitled "The Man Who Turned Into a Tree." Its about a postman who after 40 years of hard work, told his wife on the eve of his retirement that he would never again walk. He went out in the yard, dug a deep hole and stood in it. He then instructed his wife to throw the dirt over his feet and bring his dinner. With much weeping and wailing, she obliged him and went to bed. After several days had passed he called his wife saying that he wanted nothing for breakfast but lots of water, that his feet no longer hurt him and he felt fine. One look at his feet reduced his wife to hysterics... his feet had grown together and resembled the trunk of a tree. She called the mayor, the police, the fire department and the newspapers... they all agreed on one thing... that he should stop where he was... that half man, half tree was of more value to the town than a common tree. But they pleaded in vain. The next day, upon awakening, they saw nothing but a large elm tree... a lesson to all of us who might be tempted to carve our initials in a tree, or break off branches for firewood. Just think... what if it were Herb Munson, Bill Jenkins or Jack Butler.

Daredevil Stunts At Rose Bowl On Fourth Of July

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

There is much wailing and muttering among the firemen the past few days. No one seems to know why Andy Liscombe and Shorty Steinberger are so particular about the painting of a baby carriage and who they are painting it for. "Surely it isn't possible?" is heard many times. We have seen the boys paint many toys for the kids and several times they have been known to repair and paint their wives' favorite chairs, but a baby carriage—that is different. What use could they have for it?

The foggy mornings that we have had are natural and so are the dry sunny days that are to follow, when weeds and grass will dry very fast and become very inflammable. Get rid of 'em.

Looking at our fire trucks after seeing some others around the country reminds us that a new paint job wouldn't hurt them. "Old Snort" looks as though he had gone thru' a fire. It is surprising how many people stop to look at the fire trucks. We should have trucks to be proud of and the condition of the paint now is not much to brag about. There would be some pride in polishing them if they would polish.

Although Louie Karger has a new car, he refuses to part with his old one. He has driven it so many years that he treats it as one of the family. To see him in another car is not natural. He says that his new one drives just like and aeroplanes. Maybe that's because he is up in the air.

From now until we have lots of rain, we must all be very careful when near any inflammable materials. Don't take that chance with an open fire. The tinders may fly into a lot full of dry brush and catch fire long after when you are asleep. Throwing burning matches and lighted cigarettes are still the cause of many unwanted fires.

Don't forget the firemen's dance on Saturday June 21st at the Woman's clubhouse. Get a ticket and attend. We'll be glad to see you.

Welles, Mrs. Richard Stanton, Mrs. Harold Daveness, Mrs. Edith Floyd, Miss Camilla Shearer and Mr. Jessup.

Mrs. Frank B. DeLemos, and Mrs. Dorothy Gomez and children of Palo Alto, arrived Tuesday to spend a week or two as the guests of Mrs. DeLemos's sister, Mrs. E. L. Jackson of 55 Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graham and family are leaving Saturday for a month's vacation in Texas.

In love one has need of being believed, in friendship of being understood.—Abel Bonnard.

LEADING THE VAN

Not all the story of California's sweeping advance from its early day pastoral era of rangelands, wheatfields and orchard groves to a hustling industrial giant can be told in the matter of fact language of numbers.

But in the most comprehensive survey ever made by California's Bureau of Labor Statistics, which has just been published, there emerges a record of progress which seems to show that the Golden West as a fabulous land of opportunity and lusty growth was by no means just a sentimental legend. But the most striking fact revealed in California's history since 1890 has been its transformation into a state of major industrial importance.

In the last 50 years, California's total labor force increased 442 per cent compared to 127 per cent for the whole country. The growth of new industries and manufacturing, particularly since 1920, went hand in hand with the expansion of California's financial resources, the development of a sound banking system second to none, circulating funds continuously through the state, and the requirement of business and industry. This contributed to the state's financial stability can be traced to the fact that during the hectic period between 1920 and 1933 we had among the fewest bank failures of any state in the Union.

This has not been the only point on which California has surpassed her sister states. During 1939 this state led all others in rate of increase of wage-earners employed in manufacturing industries, representing a gain of 132 per cent over 1914 as compared with an increase of less than 25 per cent in such employment for the nation as a whole in 1939.

Nor is the story yet done. Under the spur of all-out defense, California's tomorrow is certain to record even greater chapters in her growth.

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

TO KILL or not to kill? That is the question. For war means killing. Hence the bewilderment of all God's children. Down through the ages, it seems, since that first Gold Star mother wept for Abel. War then, war now. The same old bewilderment—especially among those, paradoxically, who might have been looked to for guidance: the preachers, the teachers, even the prophets. Buddah, Mohammed; and—well, Moses and the whole school of prophetic giants who followed him. Moses of the Shining Face: "Thou shalt not kill!" St. John the Divine: "...I will kill her children with death... I will give unto every one of you according to your works."

THIS is written by one who probably hates killing as much as even Gandhi ever did—or more. In this respect, we admit, we're nuts—leaning to the vegetarian side, murmuring an apology when we kill a snail; we've spent plenty of time, in our sloppier moods, helping flies to get out of doors even when the swatter was handy. We recount this just to show you. Yet do we now dream of war and wholesale killings. Not only of Nazis. We find ourselves telling friends how we'd like to set up again the good old guillotine in France—for Laval, for Darlan, for the whole Vichy capodole and their sardonic abettors, male and female: inside of France or anywhere else.

WE say this because we believe that, with some differences of degree and befuddlement, this contrast of past and present tense is so nearly universal. Even with our limited contacts here in Sierra Madre, however, we've met extremists who claimed to be clear of this internal conflict; or, for that matter, who apparently had arrived at some position of equilibrium with no necessity for thought. Those saying peace, peace, when there is no peace—mostly cultists of one sort or another: the sort, incidentally, we've always belonged to more or less but whom we now find outright nauseating. High-brow extremists. Or, again, moron extremists. Some on this side. Some on that.

YET the vast majority, by all the evidence, the kindly sort who do not hate killing, yet who do not shout for war. Is there an answer to this moral problem involved? We believe there is. Our belief that there must be seems to be vindicated by the fact that there have always been warriors like Robert E. Lee, like Chinese Gordon—Gordon of Karthoum; war-leaders like Lincoln, like Washington; like the thousands upon thousands—like the millions—who have made war during the entire moral evolution of our human family. And this makes us shudder and want to fight whenever someone now pulls one of the old standbys like that sad, bad croak of Mark Twain's that "there never was a good war nor a bad peace."

FOR, personally, we've fought this out—within ourselves. Ever since Munich we've been fighting this internal war of our own. And we're not bewildered anymore. We still hate cruelty and killing. We still love our neighbor—even, in some instances, we're pretty sure, better than ourselves. We love the Germans as we remember them from childhood in and around Cincinnati and later in Munich; love the Italians we've known pretty much everywhere, at home and abroad; love the French, the Japanese. Yet, where necessity calls, ready to make war on any of these. No longer bewildered. With a conscience that might be awed but not cowed. We've reached this peace, too, on our own; for in much reading we found only the old familiar confusion.

IT WAS something like this. We hesitate to quote from the Bible, because right now there is more misleading quotation from that source being hurled about, it seems, than ever before in all our experience. But St. Paul said it: "The body is not one member but many;" and also all the discourse that follows about how if one part suffers the other parts suffer with it. Then, there is that utterance of Lord Jesus himself—you all know it: "And if thy right eye offend thee..." and so on. "...for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell."

REALLY, and after all, it wasn't the Bible anyway that was guiding us in this battle of ours. After all our years of church and soul-searching and what our own reverend grandfather used to call "ghostly counsel," it seemed that it were better to base our judgment now on our own inner light. And this was it: the same light that would send us to the dentist for the extraction of a malfactory tooth, or to a surgeon for the amputation of a gangrened foot. That's war of a kind—this kind of our present War. A War without hate. But of a necessity—to get rid of something rotten, gangrened, and which, if allowed to continue, would send our whole body—meaning this beautiful world we live in—literally "into hell."

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS

Speaking of those good old days, which, now and then, we hear folks praise, the record very frankly tells they rated, just about two bells. In '83 from Maine to Mo., you couldn't find one radio: who'd care to live in times like that and never hear a fireside chat? No motor cars in those old days; they toured around in one horse shays; imagine driving, weeks on end and never run across a friend. In those days, all the food they got was cooked by ma, in pan and pot; It's hard to see how folks could plan a meal, with nothing from a can. Folks who grumble and complain and wish old times were back again, would be the last to trade, today, their auto, for a one hoss shay.

SHORT SIGHTED RADICAL LABOR LEADERS CHALLENGE THE BILL OF RIGHTS

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Those whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad! And now arrogant strike leaders in the citrus belt, determined to break opposition to their demands at all costs, are openly flaunting the Constitution of the United States in a brazen attempt to curb freedom of the press.

The secondary boycott, it appears, is to be invoked in an attempt to destroy the business of newspapers which oppose extreme labor action, or which offend the "little Hitlers" of the labor movement by refusing to substitute labor propaganda for unbiased news.

As Exhibit A of labor-Hitlerism at its worst, we submit the following letter, addressed to advertisers who use the columns of the Port Huemene Herald, a weekly newspaper in Ventura County, which apparently has offended the Agricultural and Citrus Workers Union by its handling of news in the citrus strike. "Since the advertising of your firm is being carried on in part by the Port Huemene Herald, which in our opinion is a Fascist and un-American filthy sheet, this local Union is herewith requesting you to withdraw your patronage from this paper. In the event you feel that you want to keep your contacts with this sheet, it will become necessary for us to notify the entire labor movement, their friends and sympathizers in Ventura County, that we consider this action on your part manifestly unfair and we will be forced to do everything in our power to have them withdraw their patronage from your firm."

"Very truly yours,
"AGRICULTURAL AND CITRUS WORKERS UNION, LOCAL 22342
"Lee Renfro, President
"Dallas Cisco, Financial Secy."
There are, of course, thousands of fine, intelligent, thoroughly American labor union men, who have the good sense and fairness to recognize that labor unionism never could have been born nor have survived in this country without a free press, but there are others, apparently, who have forgotten the Constitution and the Bill of Rights and are bringing discredit on the whole labor movement by their assault on the fundamental guarantees of our liberty.

The Oxnard Press-Courier, another Ventura County newspaper, correctly analyzes the situation when it says:

"What has been published in the Port Huemene Herald is beside the point in this instance. The entire question is whether or not a labor union may be allowed to dictate what can be published or what cannot be published in an American newspaper. The freedom of the press has been challenged."

The Press-Courier goes further and remarks:

"If this citrus union is allowed to use threats and economic force to destroy business and industry, perhaps the great agricultural industry and other free Americans, cherishing freedom of speech, of press and of religion may be forced to use similar economic action toward those who may or may not have courage enough to believe in freedom of the press."

"If an un-American practice can drive labor's patronage from merchants, perhaps free Americans can take their patronage to merchants who DO believe in the Bill of Rights."

Neither the press nor the farming industry has any slight desire to resort to extreme action and fight fire with fire, but unless reasonable men in the labor movement take back the reins and oust the firebrands who have resorted to the methods of Hitler and Stalin, public indignation will eventually run over and labor will pay the penalty of its own excesses.

Farmers have a right to live; newspapers have a right to live; union workers and non-union workers both have a right to live; merchants and business men have a right to live—and all have a right, in this country, to freedom of speech, a free press and freedom of worship.

No matter what the provocation, real American's won't permit those rights to be abrogated. It is to be hoped labor's hotheads will cool off before they have done irreparable damage to labor's cause.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

The following precise excerpt from a letter written last week by a 19-year old Stanford girl to her father will shock some dilettante mothers and dads out of their easy chairs, off their bar stools, out of picket lines, off relief rolls and into their jobs, as parents, not parasites.

"Dearest Pop," the letter reads, "...We feel that war is so eventual that it is almost impossible for young people to look very far ahead to the future—nothing but war—and a 50-50 chance at life or death."

"We don't think the future holds much happiness for the youth of today—you might as well get what you can now—you won't have it long. But maybe my children will find the happiness our generation will never have. All my love to you and mother."

The "dearest pop," here, let us interject, is an attorney and a rancher. He has carried his share of public responsibilities. He worked his way through the same university his daughter now attends, and if this writer's memory serves, carved a record in the Stanford law school that has never been surpassed. Then it was in 1917 and he enlisted. Here is his letter:

"As to your remarks about the probabilities of war, the futility of life, etc., etc. If George Washington and all those other old boys had felt that way we would still be vassals of the English Crown and would have been in the war months and months ago."

"If your great grandparents had been as soft and weak as your letter indicates you and your generation are, California would still be a wilderness."

"Good heavens! Haven't you kids got the moral fibre to meet your tasks, to make your fight, to die if necessary for your country? Don't whine because the going is tough. Get down on your knees and pray God to give you the stamina and strength to fight—and then get up and don't be licked! That is the spirit that built America. It will preserve freedom and democracy and the dignity of the individual."

"If you are as soft and spineless as your remarks portend, then thank God we have a war which will leave only the few with character to breed a generation that will not be afraid of life, will not give up before a blow is struck, will not be concerned only with night clubs, juke boxes, beer and a good time. Think it over. Your affectionate Pop."

Just how many young men and women share the views of the student quoted? If the number is large, the blame is not wholly on the young folk's shoulders. They have seen too many of their elders in recent years leaning on Uncle Sam, shucking off responsibilities, learning how to be sullen and demanding, forgetting how to work and sweat and dream and build.

It is the fault, somewhat of instructors who have taught not simply to question honestly, but to doubt and scoff at the workings of democracy.

That futile feeling is common enough among young, good minds. It hits with a fury of conviction and departs again as soon as the mind gets working, for youth inherently prefers the road where its mettle can be tried. And the metamorphosis is a lesser wrench if there's a "dear Pop" about to give the right answer, straight from the shoulder, also as youth prefers it.

What They Say:

Don Thomas, Mgr. All-Year Club of Southern California—"We are building an empire in California today which ranks first in per capita retail sales, first in ownership of automobiles, second in ratio of life insurance to population and fourth in total buying income."

E. V. Durling, INS columnist—"Women with good looking limbs are always very unhappy when wearing something that conceals them. Now they're wearing something called 'evening shorts'."

Herbert Hoover—"The potential might of this nation is the strongest thing in the whole world. But the United States today is unprepared."

Jessie M. Drexler, Mill Valley Record—"Happiness is largely a matter of habit; it can be cultivated and formed."

Dist. Atty. Brady, S.F.—"The cruelest ordeal inflicted on mothers is the ordeal of war—stark brutal, vainglorious war that snatches sons from their bosoms!"

A. C. Bond, United Drug Co., executive—"Business in the U.S. will reach heights this year it has never before approached—and the business activity will not be followed by a catastrophic depression, as some have predicted."

Dr. John Musser, visitor from Tulane—"I'd rather have a flat footed soldier who could think, than a perfect physical specimen who was emotionally flighty and unstable under difficulties."

We're a restless, energetic nation, ever bent on improvement. The latest step in this direction, so we hear, has been taken in Oregon where the House passed a measure making it mandatory for all future barbers to have had a high school education. So far, well and good. But the bill's sponsor declared—and this is what won him the votes that passed it—his aim was to raise the level of barber shop conversation and enable the customer to hear more intelligent comment while getting a hair cut and a shave. Obviously, legislators of the Webfoot State are taking a close shave in favoring this discriminatory bill. Why should legislators demand astute comment from barbers when the barber doesn't even demand it of his legislators? The barber is willing to let well enough alone. His representatives ought to go and do likewise.

With good reason, a special senatorial committee is turning critical eyes on Camp Blanding, Fla. This large training camp for selectees was scheduled to cost $9 million, but before the last nail is driven home its cost will have soared to $29 million, more than a 200 per cent increase. The difference will have to come out of the pocket of the man on the street who has no objection to taxes for defense, but earnestly hopes that committee will clamp the lid tight henceforth on taxes for profiteering.

While defense production goes forward in 20,000 major plants, the machines and producing capacity of some 15,000 middle-sized and smaller firms remain largely untapped. Many of these would willingly aid the armament drive if they could find out what the government's specific wants were. Many of these the government would doubtless put to work if it knew their resources. In the tumultuous hub-bub that is Washington today, the small enterpriser has small chance of making his services known. But a significant news item indicates he has a better day coming. By July 1, "defense service stations" will be set up by a statewide branch banking system in hundreds of California communities for the sole purpose of informing the small businessman how he can find his place in the defense effort. In conjunction with this, a fact-finding office, now being established in Washington, will provide California enterprisers, through the defense service stations, with an information service piped directly from the national capital to their own communities. Such statewide information clearing houses should easily make California the best prepared of any state in the nation to place all willing hands and all available resources at the disposal of the defense drive. It means, in effect, Washington has come to California.

California, with its ledgers in the best shape in two years, can point to revenues in the first 11 months of this fiscal year $19,588,779 greater than in the same period of the last fiscal year, and expenditures $23,003,311 less. We trust this welcome news is not a temporary condition, but a real forecast of the shape of things to come!

As the second World War sweeps into the Middle East with its threat of engulfing Palestine, the Biblical homeland of Christendom and today the national home of Zionists, Britain faces an increasingly grievous problem. In Palestine today, some 500,000 Jews are longing to arm their young men for entering the

Like the perennial Phoenix, reports have again flashed to the surface on Europe's sea of rumors and hunches, announcing growing friction between Germany and Russia. From the Baltic to the Black Sea, Hitler is said to have massed 100 divisions along Russia's frontiers, and rumors of an impending attack against Stalin's kingdom have been purportedly heard in Berlin. But the evidence indicates not that the Nazi warlords are preparing for war on their eastern frontier, but that Germany is seeking increasing collaboration from Russia. The Russians, as hard bargain drivers, may well have balked at imperious Nazi demands. What could better soften them up than a powerful display of armed force, threatening a war which at all costs, Dictator Stalin wishes to avoid? If representatives of Hitler and Stalin come to blows this week, it is most apt to be the blow of fists striking conference tables in Berlin or Moscow. And the one hundred divisions is a great aid to one's bargaining strength!

Fishing Boats Will Be Allowed On Lakes

No county ordinance of recent months has awakened half the interest generated by the possibility of the county throwing open three additional flood control water bodies to fishermen.

For two years fishermen have importuned the supervisors to open the reservoirs to the public. William A. Smith, Supervisor of this district, received a report from Chief Engineer Hedger favoring the idea and last week Mr. Smith put a motion asking the county counsel to draft an amendment to the present ordinance governing use of the stored waters by fishermen.

Supervisor Smith reports that the ordinance will provide for the flood control issuing boat permits at $5 per season. This will entitle the holder to use his boat on either the Big Tajunga, San Dimas, San Gabriel No. 1 or Puddingstone lakes, or all of them. In addition, of course, each fisherman must have his state fishermen's license. There will be no rent boat concessions granted.

KEEP BOYS OFF ROADS IN TRAFFIC PEAK

In the interest of safety while on the streets and highways Ranchito Madorita, Sierra Madre, has so arranged its summer camping session trips for boys guests that all will be made between Mondays and Fridays, thus keeping the groups out of the weekend peak traffic, director Edward A. Davey has informed the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

A Few Pennies

... that's all it takes to assure your family the continuation of your income—month after month—through a SALARY EXTENSION POLICY. Those few pennies, wisely invested, may indeed be "pennies from heaven" for those loved ones who now depend on your earnings.

Let us explain, without obligation, how you may secure this family protection.

Call Mrs. L. McCarty—TR. 5-478 or write me at 1216 Commercial Exchange Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

As It Appears To me

There seems to be something about the News office window which makes those who sit near want to stare vacantly out over the Court subconsciously taking in the downtown happenings. Not that one ever has an opportunity to see anything startling. However there is some gratification in watching Station Agent Graham at work, particularly when we remember that his efforts recently netted him a luscious apple pie, from Mrs. Liscomb who really knows how to bake them.

In the afternoon the Court is so drowsy, only a few strollers breaking the monotony, but even they look as though a siesta would not be unappreciated. Most of the downtowners manage to keep off the street during the afternoon. However Tom Neale goes gaily by, waving, or stops to talk about the opening of the San Gabriel Dam No. 1 for boats. Apparently most of our fishermen are keeping an eye open for the official date, when boats will be permitted, as this spot is looked upon by those who know as the most likely fishing spot in this part of the state.

Good news for local baseball fans is to the effect that Jim Irving, former first baseman with the St. Louis Cardinals who has recently become one of us, is going to be on hand to help build a really first class team for our town. Also in the line of interest for youngsters is the rodeo scheduled for the Coliseum next Sunday afternoon. We hear that the local Kiwanis, who are certainly living up to their theme, Citizenship Responsibility—the price of Liberty, are going out for some of the free passes which the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and Coordinating Councils have reserved for youngsters who might not otherwise be able to attend.

With one of our neighboring columnists writing several paragraphs about the masculine beard, it seems not out of line for us to inform local women that there are tentative plans afoot among the heads of households for a "no maid" campaign. There are so many simple ways to stymie this latest brainchild that we are really not going to worry much about all of the very worthy maids whose lives might be disrupted if their plan worked.

We think there is no better way to introduce a guest columnist than to quote some of his innermost thoughts. Guest of this column next week will be Dr. John L. Woehler, who will have many first hand observations about Canada; not just fishing tales, but the undercurrent gleanings which make relationships between nations more understandable. As evidence of our guest's rare ability to comprehend the invisible facts which are obscure to most of us we introduce him through this original thought.

Youth is not a time of life—it is a state of mind. It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions. It is the freshness of the deep springs of life. Youth means a predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite of adventure over the love of ease. This often exists in a man of 50 more than a boy of 20. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals.

To our mind these words are as fundamentally true as any that we have read or heard. How we wish that everyone could believe them.

—Margaret Eliason.

Heavy Crop Of Slugs And Snails Brings Tip On Their Control By Advisor

This seasons' unusually abundant crop of common snails in orchards and home gardens has brought so many inquiries as to the best method of control that George G. McFarlin, local county agricultural inspector, is issuing the following recommendations.

Prepare a snail bait consisting of one pound of calcium arsenate mixed dry with sixteen pounds of coarse wheat bran and moisten with approximately 3 1/4 quarts of water. The mixture should be moist but not wet, and should be broadcast at the rate of one half to three quarters pounds to the average size citrus tree into which it should be thrown, as well as sprinkled on the ground. It should be dry enough to sprinkle in fine particles and not stick together in lumps.

This bait is most effective in winter and early spring, and should be applied during damp or wet periods, preferably after a rain or at irrigation time. Place it out immediately after overhead or flood irrigation or just before or after furrow irrigation. In heavy infestations it is generally necessary to apply two or three or four treatments in a year's time.

The same bait may be used for home plantings and should be broadcast before watering, pre-

Recital By Stanham Pupils Pleases A Large Audience

A group of piano pupils of Louie Mae Stanham were presented in recital Sunday afternoon before an enthusiastic audience at Miss Stanham's attractive studio at 241 Ramona avenue.

Assisting on the program were Jack and Dick Champlin, voice students of Blanche Wayne Marfield, heard in solo and duet numbers. Of special interest was a composition written by Miss Stanham and dedicated to these young vocalists and most effectively sung by them.

Miss Stanham is arranging a program scheduled for July 6, to be given at the Gold Shell in Pasadena in which her pupil, Miss Ayako Enoki will be a featured soloist. Dr. Eames of Scripps College and other noted artists will also participate on this program.

Living Cost Will Be Held Under 1920

No Skyrocket In Prices
Looked For As In The Days Of World War No. 1

The cost of living in the United States has risen only 2.2 percent in the past year, declared California Taxpayers' Association, comparing the cost of living trend now and during the period of the first world war.

At present, the Taxpayers' association stated, the cost of living index stands at 86.9, with the index of average weekly earnings appreciably higher, at 120. In 1914 conditions were reversed, for the index of average weekly earnings stood at 48 and the cost of living index at 61. By November, 1918, the cost of living index had climbed to 98; in July, 1919, it was 102. It reached its peak of 123 in June, 1920, and in 1923 it was 100. Living costs reached their depression low in April, 1933, and since then have increased 21 percent.

"Much discussion is being given to a possible radical rise in the cost of living," the Taxpayers' association said. "There seems little likelihood that living costs will skyrocket during the present defense and rearmament efforts as they did during the period from 1916 to 1921. In addition to the obvious difference in the relationship between the cost of living and weekly earnings, there are still large unused resources in men and materials. Positive steps are also being taken by the Federal government to prevent any run-away price inflation. The Federal Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply has already been set up to watch price trends closely. It is reported that the plan is to stabilize costs—to freeze prices if necessary, as was done when the recent coal strike threatened a coal scarcity."

While living costs have increased about one-fifth since April, 1933, tax collections by the federal, state and local governments in California have more than doubled, going from $49,000,000 in 1932-33 to $951,000,000 for 1939-40; next year collections will be three times as great as they were in 1932-33, for they will amount to about $1,400,000,000, the association pointed out, and the cost of living is not rising sufficiently to warrant increases in government budgets for services or for many supplies; and, with the tremendous increases which the people have not yet even begun to feel in federal tax demands.

A. L. A. Activities

Our unit meeting Thursday evening was in the form of a garden party at the home of Lotta Hopper. Yearly reports were given by the various chairmen showing a very busy and constructive year. Final drawing was made for the quilt made and donated by Grace Calkin for the welfare fund. The lucky person was Master Irving Hopper. Delicious refreshments were served, a special feature being a large anniversary cake, the occasion being the 47th anniversary of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hopper. Special guests were Mrs. Olive Fowler, Mrs. Ethel Henderson and Mrs. Meta Tarne from Gorman, Calif.

Past President Helene Smith is spending a week at 600 Woodland Drive preparatory to moving to Santa Barbara where she will make her home.

Gold-Star Mother Hattie Lumpkin has moved to Pasadena. An interesting letter was read from Mrs. Anna Block who is visiting a sister in New Haven, Conn., for the summer.

Miss Minnie Stinman attended the 18th District picnic at Alhambra park Friday.

President Stinman and Secretary Embree attended the district meeting at Monrovia Monday night.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Maybelle Barker, 232 Mariposa avenue, on June 26th. This is an important meeting as nominations will be in order for unit officers. Election will be held the first Meeting in July.

Maybelle C. Barker, Press Chmn

YOUTH ORGANIZATION TO HAVE LAWN PARTY

Members of the Pilgrim Fellowship, recently formed youth organization of the Congregational Church, will be entertained at a lawn party and pot luck supper Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mareta Preseton, 448 East Montecito avenue. Rev. Mr. Schieff will be the guest speaker, giving an informal talk on some of the highlights of his long and interesting missionary career.

Latest styles in wedding invitations and announcements—printed or engraved—are inexpensive at THE NEWS office.

Two Interesting Sunday Programs At Wistaria Gardens

Announcement was made today of two outstanding programs scheduled for the Wistaria Vine Garden series.

Mrs. Eleanor Young, noted lecturer and traveler recently returned from Mexico, will appear on the Sunday Sunset Supper program, June 22, to discuss the passing of the old landmarks and subsequent growth of new structures.

On the following Sunday evening, June 29, Joan Halanick, recent winner of the designation "Best young musician in the State of California" for her outstanding violin work, will appear. She is being presented by Bernard Sinsheimer, recent head of the master class at L'Ecole Normale de Musique in Paris. Both programs are, as customary, free to the public following the 6:15 p.m. supper.

The Vine activities this week are being given added interest by the current showing of water colors and canvases by Mrs. L. Elston Glenn, recently elected president of the Pasadena Fire Arts Club, Florence J. Tompkins and Helen Narozny.

Kiwanis Golfers Retain Leadership

Sierra Madre's golfing Kiwanians retained their championship status at the Los Seranos Country Club Monday when they captured the Kiwanis inter-district golf handicap. Individual scores of low gross and low net were made by Bill Burr and Frank Spencer, respectively. Playing for Sierra Madre were Dr. L. M. Evans, Burr, Dr. J. Stadden Miller, Dr. John L. Woehler, Spencer, "Slim" Roberts and Dick Lees. Other local club members present were Charles E. Klunk, Dr. J. Earl Gossard, John Fitzgerald, and Dr. M. H. A. Peterson. Sharing sports interest was a demonstration of Japanese jiu jitsu.

Speaker at the next regular Tuesday meeting at Wistaria Vine Gardens will be Dr. John L. Woehler, who will discuss present conditions in Canada.

Air Show To Feature Sheriffs Barbecue

Sheriff E. W. Biscalluz, president of the Sheriff's Relief Association, announced completion of an air show program which will be staged at the 18th Annual Barbecue of the Association at Santa Anita Park, Sunday, June 29.

Air show events which have been definitely decided upon are to include a modern aerial combat "dog-fight" and the bombing of a city, imitating "blitz" methods used in Europe. "Aerobatic" pilots Frank Clarke and Tex Rankin will stage the "dog-fight," while Garland Lincoln will handle the bombing. Lincoln will also pilot a huge transport plane from which there will be massed parachute jumping in current war style.

Besides there has been arranged a fine vaudeville stage show—parades, dancing, music, athletic contests and other things for amusement and entertainment. Then too, there is another important feature of the day—a California-Spanish style of barbecue with all the trimmings which go to make this kind of feast distinctive.

Drama Festival Now At The Playhouse

With a 24 gun guffaw firing the opening salute Pasadena Community Playhouse opens the 7th annual Midsummer Drama Festival Monday evening, June 23, with "The Beggar on Horseback," by George S. Kaufman. Under the title of Modern American Comedy the festival features eight comedies in eight weeks, with Kaufman, Connelly, Moss Hart and Edna Ferber as the four featured playwrights.

Just to prove that you can't coop an artist in a cell at the Cady Consolidated Art Factory and expect Class AA results, Kaufman and Connelly send young Neil McRae, a young composer, through a spirited and imaginative evening.

CROAN PUPILS WILL GIVE RECITAL

Mrs. Edna R. Croan, former well-known resident of this city, will present her piano class in recital at the Gould Recital Hall, 967 East Colorado street, Pasadena, at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, June 20. Claude Sparks will sing a group of songs. Those taking part are Ann and George Carlson, Marjorie and Donald Pace, Allan de Lanbiefels, Joy Tabor, Ann Robinson, Barbara Du Nah, Eleanor Pipkin, Betty Barnes, Helen Hoshino, Jeanette Carlson, Carolyn Brooks, Nobuko and Yoshico Umbekebo, Louise Edwards, Evelyn Stransky, Raymond and John Sparks, Doris Lyons, Roberta Cox, James Ewart, Charles Root, Eleanor Lundin, Mildred Erwin, Geraldine Grier and June Hochachild.

City's First Town Marshall Feted On His Birthday

Sierra Madre's first town marshal, W. P. Caley, was the honored guest at a combined Father's Day and birthday celebration arranged on his 82nd natal anniversary Sunday, by his daughter, Mrs. Maybelle Caley Barker, at her home on Ramona avenue. Mr. Caley has been a resident of Sierra Madre for almost half a century, and when the city was incorporated in 1907 became the first town marshal, a job which also carried the responsibilities of street superintendent and tax collector. He is still active about his garden and a familiar figure in the downtown section. Also present at the dinner were Mrs. Caley, Mrs. Noble, another daughter of the Caley, and their granddaughter, Nadine Noble.

SIERRA MADRE HAS NIGHT AT ELKS CLUB

Entertainment and fun furnished by past Exalted Ruler Fred Krinke, Councilman John Froehlich and Bill Lees, highlighted Sierra Madre night at the Monrovia Elks Club Tuesday, when members from here took over the meeting. A Dutch lunch was served to all present and festivities were topped off by a wrestling match, one half of which was done with much grunting and groaning by the ex-champ of the state of Montana.

NOTED WOMEN WILL SPEAK AT BETHANY

Miss Constance Brandon of London, England, international secretary of the World Dominion Movement, will be guest speaker at Bethany Church at 7:30 Sunday evening. This brilliant speaker, known throughout the world for her religious talks has chosen as her subject "The Golden Casket," an illustrated lecture on the Bible. All interested townspeople are invited to attend.

McMILLENS HAVE A GRANDCHILD

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McMillan of 44 East Carter avenue received word yesterday of the birth of their first grandchild in San Francisco. The baby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McMillan and weighed 8 pounds 11 ounces at birth. She will be christened Jacqueline.

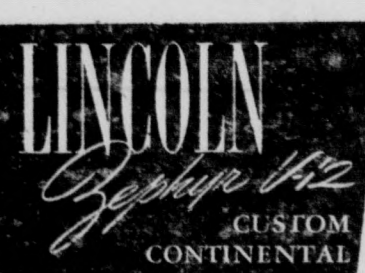

Wedding invitations and announcements—printed or engraved—and in latest type faces—are reasonable at the NEWS office.
